SUBJECT: Security Bulletin

1. I urge all personnel to read carefully the attached "Security Bulletin" and subsequent issues.

2. The Central Intelligence Agency must be the leader in following good security practices. It is not enough to strive to excel in the collection and evaluation of intelligence. If we do not deny this intelligence to unauthorized persons, we not only fruitlessly spend our energies but we actively aid the enemy by making him a present of our efforts.

3. It cannot be stated too strongly that the work of this Agency must always rest upon a foundation of security consciousness in each and every one of us.
